Miss Doris DeNio is spending a few weeks with relatives in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Goddard have returned from their auto trip to Massachusetts.

Harry Foss and H. P. Crosby went to Boston last week, bringing back a Maxwell touring car for the latter.

Mrs. Mary Leonard, who has been spending several weeks here with relatives, returned to her home in Chicago last Friday.

Mrs. Reba Abbott entertained her Sabbath school class at an afternoon picnic last Thursday in Woodard's grove. A happy time it was for all the young misses.

Miss Delta Collins, who has been at Breezy Hill throughout the summer, returned to Bellows Saturday to resume her duties as a teacher in the high school there.

Mrs. Lizzie White made good as Town Clerk at the Primary last week. She gave close attention to her duties and in short time after the ballots were counted had them recorded in the town records.

Lee Andrews, at one time engaged in business here, and now a leading merchant of Fairlee, is the Republican nominee for Representative in that town. Lee is a hustler, a live wire and a good citizen. He is all right for the position and will make a good record.

Mr. Wilson's administration must confess itself incompetent in one respect or the other. It either has appropriated for an unneeded navy or it has neglected a needed navy. It can select its fault to suit itself. In one respect or the other it must be wrong.

"I believe in efficiency in politics just as much as in anything else," says Mr. Hughes. Efficiency is an excellent watchword, and its use in the campaign is merely a forerunner of its use in the White House when he gets there.

First they said that Hughes was an iceberg; now they are saying that he is a mud slinger. He cannot possibly be both and, as a matter of fact, is neither. The Democrats must feel in a mighty bad way when they cry out "mud and treason."

WILSON ADMITS HE PRECIPITATED WAR

When Mr. Wilson forgets himself he admits that we have been at war. For example, on May 11, 1914, in an address over the dead marines at the navy yard in Brooklyn he said that the marines had been engaged in "a war of service." A war of service to whom or to what? Certainly not to the United States, nor to Mexico, nor to humanity at large. Was it to Mr. Wilson?—From the Speech of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Delivered at Lewiston, Me., in Behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

That Ever-Growing Body

(Editorial in The Asheville (N. C.) Citizen.)

Nothing can be more repugnant to the American sense of justice than the persistence with which the courts of various sections of the country, doubtless aggravated by special interests of a selfish nature, hound that ever-growing body of religionists known as Christian Scientists. For the third or fourth time this year the great state of New York has lent itself to a form of persecution which seeks to convict a man who practices the art of healing with prayer. The strangest part of each proceeding is found in the language of the warrant which charges the accused of "practising medicine without a license." If prayer is to be incorporated into materia medica, then every mother who has knelt beside the cradle of her sick child, and every minister of the gospel who has asked the prayer of his congregation for some afflicted member, has been equally guilty and has practised medicine without a license.

It seems that Christian Scientists so accused are held guilty of the death of a patient when death ensues; yet when we enter the recognized circles of medical practice, where the death totals run up into the thousands every year in given sections, no one is held responsible, nor should any one be. The annual report of the New York state department of health shows that there were approximately fifty-five hundred deaths from pneumonia alone during the last year, all under one form or another of medical treatment. Naturally, there was no talk of "investigation" at the hands of the state authorities.

In one of the cases under discussion the Christian Science practitioner was indicted on the ground that he had accepted a fee. Here again we have a glaring case of inconsistency, for if "the laborer is worthy of his hire" in other walks of life, surely he who prays and believes that "the prayer of faith shall save the sick," is worthy of it when he enters the religious field; otherwise, all ministers of the gospel should serve without pay. To our way of thinking, he who seeks to cure without resort to quackery or fraud should enjoy the measure of liberty which is accorded all other classes of citizenship in a free and enlightened country.

To live in the presence of great truths, to be dealing with eternal laws, to be led by permanent ideals, that is what keeps a man patient when the world ignores him, and calm and unspooled when the world praises him.—Francis G. Peabody.

To the Young Orator.

Mr. Frederick Warde, who is coming to this city this summer for a lecture recital at the Chautauqua on "Shakespeare and His Plays" and who is one of the foremost actors of Shakespearean tragedy, gives this advice to young orators: "Speak every word clearly and distinctly. Do not use emphasis unless you have something to emphasize. Do not saw the air with your hands. Never make a movement unless you have a reason for it. Never lose your temper."

ELECTING A PRESIDENT 10

Buchanan
Defeated
First Republican Candidate.

BUCHANAN.

THE election of 1856 was the first contest between the two parties as they exist today. Buchanan, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, opposed John C. Fremont, Republican, of New York. The Republican party had just been created. Slavery was the principal issue, and signs of the approaching catastrophe were plainly visible. Buchanan was elected, receiving a popular vote of 1,838,169 to 1,341,264 for his opponent. Millard Fillmore of New York, who was the candidate of the American party, received 874,538 votes. J. C. Breckinridge, Democrat, of Kentucky, was chosen vice president.
